New York University
A private university in the public service

Faculty of Arts and Science
Department of Music

268 Waverly Building
Washington Square
New York, N.Y. 10003
Telephone: (212) 598-3431

9/17

18 December 1986

Mr David Burdett Money-Coutts
Coutts & Co. Bankers
440 Strand
London WC2, England

Dear Sir,

I am uncertain as to how to address you, so please excuse me if I am in error. I don't know whether or not you are Lord Lattimer or Lattimore* or whether the Lord (Lattimer or Lattimore) is your uncle, but a young librarian friend of mine who has been living in London for the past few months has been kind enough to forward to me your name and address.

I am starting research for a biography of Isaac Albéniz, authorized by his granddaughter Madame André (Diane) Albéniz Ciganer of 9 rue Marbœuf 75008 Paris. I have known for a long while that Francis Burdett Money-Coutts (Lord Latymer) was both a patron and artistic associate of the pianist-composer, and I wondered if any information or correspondence would have appeared in your company's or family's archives. I should of course be very willing to pay for any research conducted on the spot as well as any copying fees, if material could be xeroxed.

Let me identify myself as well as possible so that you will know of my seriousness of purpose. I am Professor of Music in the Gradua School of Arts and Science at New York University. I have contributed many articles to Grove's 6th and Stanley Sadie, its editor, will, I feel certain, vouch for me and my work. I have just completed a book, PARIS: THE MUSICAL KALEIDOSCOPE 1870-1925 which will appear in the spring of 1987. George Braziller is the publisher. In the course of writing this current book, Albéniz's name appeared frequently. When I discovered there was no biography of him in English, I determined to remedy the matter.

Please reply to my home address: 35 East 84th Street, N.Y. 10C

Cordially yours,
Elaine Brody
(Dr) Elaine Brody

* This is the spelling sent to me.

New York University
A private university in the public service

Faculty of Arts and Science
Department of Music

268 Waverly Building
Washington Square
New York, N.Y. 10003
Telephone: (212) 598-3431

9/19

18 December 1986

Mr David Burdett Money-Coutts
Coutts & Co. Bankers
440 Strand
London WC2, England

Dear Sir,

I am uncertain as to how to address you, so please excuse me if I am in error. I don't know whether or not you are Lord Lattimer or Lattimore* or whether the Lord (Lattimer or Lattimore) is your uncle, but a young librarian friend of mine who has been living in London for the past few months has been kind enough to forward to me your name and address.

I am starting research for a biography of Isaac Albéniz, authorized by his granddaughter Madame André (Diane) Albéniz Ciganer of 9 rue Marboeuf 75008 Paris. I have known for a long while that Francis Burdett Money-Coutts (Lord Latymer) was both a patron and artistic associate of the pianist-composer, and I wondered if any information or correspondence would have appeared in your company's or family's archives. I should of course be very willing to pay for any research conducted on the spot as well as any copying fees, if material could be xeroxed.

Let me identify myself as well as possible so that you will know of my seriousness of purpose. I am Professor of Music in the Gradu School of Arts and Science at New York University. I have contributed many articles to Grove's 6th and Stanley Sadie, its editor, will, I feel certain, vouch for me and my work. I have just completed a book, PARIS: THE MUSICAL KALEIDOSCOPE 1870-1925 which will appear in the spring of 1987. George Braziller is the publisher. In the course of writing this current book, Albéniz's name appeared frequently. When I discovered there was no biography of him in English, I determined to remedy the matter.

Please reply to my home address: 35 East 84th Street, N.Y. 10(

Cordially yours,

Elaine Brody

(Dr) Elaine Brody

* This is the spelling sent to me.

New York University
A private university in the public service

Faculty of Arts and Science
Department of Music

268 Waverly Building
Washington Square
New York, N.Y. 10003
Telephone: (212) 598-3431

7/20

18 December 1986

Mr David Burdett Money-Coutts
Coutts & Co. Bankers
440 Strand
London WC2, England

Dear Sir,

I am uncertain as to how to address you, so please excuse me if I am in error. I don't know whether or not you are Lord Lattimer or Lattimore* or whether the Lord (Lattimer or Lattimore) is your uncle, but a young librarian friend of mine who has been living in London for the past few months has been kind enough to forward to me your name and address.

I am starting research for a biography of Isaac Albéniz, authorized by his granddaughter Madame André (Diane) Albéniz Ciganer of 9 rue Marbœuf 75008 Paris. I have known for a long while that Francis Burdett Money-Coutts (Lord Latymer) was both a patron and artistic associate of the pianist-composer, and I wondered if any information or correspondence would have appeared in your company's or family's archives. I should of course be very willing to pay for any research conducted on the spot as well as any copying fees, if material could be xeroxed.

Let me identify myself as well as possible so that you will know of my seriousness of purpose. I am Professor of Music in the Grad School of Arts and Science at New York University. I have contributed many articles to Grove's 6th and Stanley Sadie, its editor, will, I feel certain, vouch for me and my work. I have just completed a book, PARIS: THE MUSICAL KALEIDOSCOPE 1870-1925 which will appear in the spring of 1987. George Braziller is the publisher. In the course of writing this current book, Albéniz's name appeared frequently. When I discovered there was no biography of him in English, I determined to remedy the matter.

Please reply to my home address: 35 East 84th Street, N.Y. 1

Cordially yours,
Elaine Brody
(Dr) Elaine Brody

* This is the spelling sent to me.